Frostbite Race and Dinner

The Frostbite Dinner, September 8th, hosted by Roxanne and Dan Branson, Gail & Randy Rice and Greg and Sarah Gardner, was superb. The decorations were spectacular, with LED candles on each table, and bright Fall colors. Dinner started with a tasty fresh green salad, followed by warm Italian bread sticks with three Italian sauces for the three choices of pasta, and a Chocolate Sundae dessert.

Roxanne's Alfredo Sauce from the master chef:

Equal parts of butter, cream and parmesan cheese
Warm gently and stir together. Adding a little cream cheese is optional. As the mixture thickens, add a little dry Vermouth to thin the sauce as necessary.
YUMMY!

Halloween Party There were some great

costumes. Mike Manning was Judge Kavanaugh, and Mara was a sailor just returning from the Mac race. Dottie Ford was also a sailor, and Tom was a Mexican Bandito, Dave Anthony was Father Time and Cindy was Mother Nature. Sue Clifton had a great Steampunk costume on. Mary Harris was a fisherman and Steve was a big ass bass. Greg and Sarah Gardner came as the Gardners. First place went to Mother Nature, and a tie for second to Judge Kavanaugh and Father Time.

Thanks to Sarah, Maddie and Josie Gardner, Cindy Anthony, and Kent Anderson for their help to start and time the sailboat races in 2018. ## Three Escanaba Boats Sail off to the Sunset

'Livin' the Dream—a Hunter 45, owned by Tom & Cindy Burgess - sailed from Escanaba, planning to go down through the Tennessee-Tombigbee waterway to Florida and the Bahamas

Tom & Diane Gialdini have been rebuilding “Gayle Marie” an Endeavor, which they sailed and motored up the St. Lawrence River five years ago to Vinette Boatworks. They were delayed going south in October, and were hauled out at Marinette/Menominee.

Phil and Barb on the Baba, Stormy Duchess, after ~ five years of working on their boat at Vinette Boatworks. also set sail in October. The jaunty bright yellow “Catspaw Pram,” dinghy Phil built from plans by Graham Byrne at B&B Yacht Design. Two other Catspaw prams have been built by Escanaba boaters. Bob Fouts built his dinghy for SanSouci, and “Meander” is a “Twopaw” nesting dinghy built by Glen Brown for “Adena”.

We wish all three boats safe and wonderful adventures!
